

BLUMENFELD GROUP

"Setting records for our sellers and getting a great deal for our buyer clients is what keeps our momentum thriving in any market," says Blumenfeld. "Our No. 1 skill is being able to rise early each day before most wake up, work while many are on vacation and pride ourselves on being available to clients any time of any day."

A native San Diegan, Blumenfeld has lived in many areas of the region, from inland to coastal communities. His strong appreciation of local architecture helps clients find the style they desire, from historic homes to oceanfront estates to rural properties with large landscapes.
